Additional information related to presenting your application

Safe Communities is not another project or a programme, it is an integrated way of doing business. The model is recognised by the World Health Organization (WHO) and worldwide as an effective and acceptable intervention that to address community, whānau and individual safety, resilience, and wellbeing. Safe Communities concepts embodies the values and philosophies of whanaungatanga (relationships) manaakitanga (respect, care and support) and tino rangatiratanga (self-determination and autonomy). The Manifesto for Safe Communities states that “All human beings have an equal right to health and safety”.

Pan Pacific accreditation as a Safe Community formalises community's commitment to continue to work in a collaborative and systemic way. Pan Pacific Accredited Safe Communities provide the ideal platform and channels for central and local government to increase wellbeing, safety and resiliency through a focus on targeted interventions, leadership and collaboration.

Collaborative Governance

Governance – describe the type of governance group. Prepare short summary on role/commitment of each Safe Community partner. And/or list the members including their roles within the group, and their positions within their own agencies. Indicate how long your group has been operating, and how often it meets.

- Founding Documents - Describe high level MOU or attach letters of support from key agencies/individuals to your application. Of particular relevance is how being accredited as a Safe Community will further improve partnerships and collaborations within your community.
- Structure and Functions – describe the structure of your Safe Community (include a diagram)
- Coordination – Describe your Safe Community coordination employment (relevant documentation such as job descriptions, and conditions of employment, can demonstrate this). If there is no coordinator, how will the key functions be managed?
- Working/Steering groups – If your Safe Community has a steering group (separate from governance) and/or working groups, set out their structures and functions, and how they report to/link with the governance group.
- Sustainability - provide evidence of how you will ensure the sustainability of your Safe Community coalition.

Priority Setting

- Provide a brief outline of community demographics and community description (i.e. history, location, urban, rural, population size and any unique features e.g. geography, changes in population, economic growth/decline).
- Explain the process undertaken with priority setting and provide an overview showing key wellbeing and safety trends. What data sources did you use and what other influences/factors informed your decisions?
 - Wellbeing Indicators
 - Safety Statistics
 - Research, submissions.
 - Serious unanticipated events: natural disasters, tragic individual events
 - Consultation stakeholders /partners
 - Community action/demands
 - Availability of resources
 - Media
 - Political direction
- Strategic and business plans – describe your strategy/objectives and attach latest versions of strategic plan or describe the process you will undertake to develop these.
- Describe the high risk/vulnerable groups and environments (specific and focused target groups within priority areas) in your community. How were these groups identified and what information/data/trends supported this? -

Effective Strategies

- Looking broadly across the community, use the templates (provided) to describe the range and reach of initiatives and mix of intervention modes (that reflects the current resourcing). This is a stock-take and you are not restricted to the sector headings in the template.
- Describe the targeted programmes/initiatives that are focused on your identified high risk/vulnerable groups and environments?
 - How are your priorities aligned with established national/state/regional/local priorities?
 - Explain how these programmes/initiatives that are currently being delivered are based on the latest evidence available concerning their impact and effectiveness?
- Provide data, media releases, web-based resources, etc and a minimum of five case studies, that demonstrate you have programmes that are addressing the needs for your high-risk groups and environments. It is important that you demonstrate how you engage with these groups and the extent to which they are community-led and/or place-based initiatives.

Shared Learnings

- Community engagement –show how your Safe Community interacts, with the community to investigate, implement, evaluate and continually improve processes
- Describe the communication modes that you utilise including web-based, network, event-based and other forms. List your internet links/resources.
- Describe your efforts to date to share your experiences, explaining the relationship and interaction with local/regional international networks.
 - Maintain a calendar of events that you have organised and/or attended.
